

MAGSA WEEKLY

GALLERY - STUDIO - ACADEMY

MESSAGE

This week is extra special for us as MAGSA's VDN Gallery completes 4 wonderful years on 28th May. Four years of creativity, community, workshops, celebrations, and countless beautiful memories. Thank you to every artist, student, parent, and supporter who has been a part of this journey.

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT

MAGSA X SHOPPERS STOP

MAGSA proudly collaborated with Shoppers Stop for a large-scale hat painting workshop across all Jaipur outlets on 24th, 30th, and 31st May. The event marked a milestone for MAGSA as one of our major corporate collaborations, bringing together art, creativity, and interactive experiences for children. Young participants enthusiastically explored their imagination through colors and designs, turning simple hats into unique pieces of wearable art.

ART HISTORY

18th-century painter Nainsukh broke royal art traditions by portraying Raja Balwant Singh in candid, everyday moments instead of formal heroic poses. His deeply personal paintings redefined Indian miniature art with realism, emotion, and humanity.

ART TIP

Avoid using pure black for shadows — it can make your artwork look flat and muddy. Instead, use cooler or warmer tones in your shadows to create depth, mood, and more realistic lighting.

ART NEWS TO TAKE IN

The sã Ladakh Art Biennale returns from August 1 to 10, 2026, transforming the breathtaking Leh-Kargil landscape into a space for contemporary art and dialogue. Held at nearly 3,600 metres, the festival blends art, ecology, and culture under the theme Signals from Another Star, redefining traditional exhibition spaces.
